Local Production for Local Consumption Building Local and National Supply Chains

29 June 2021

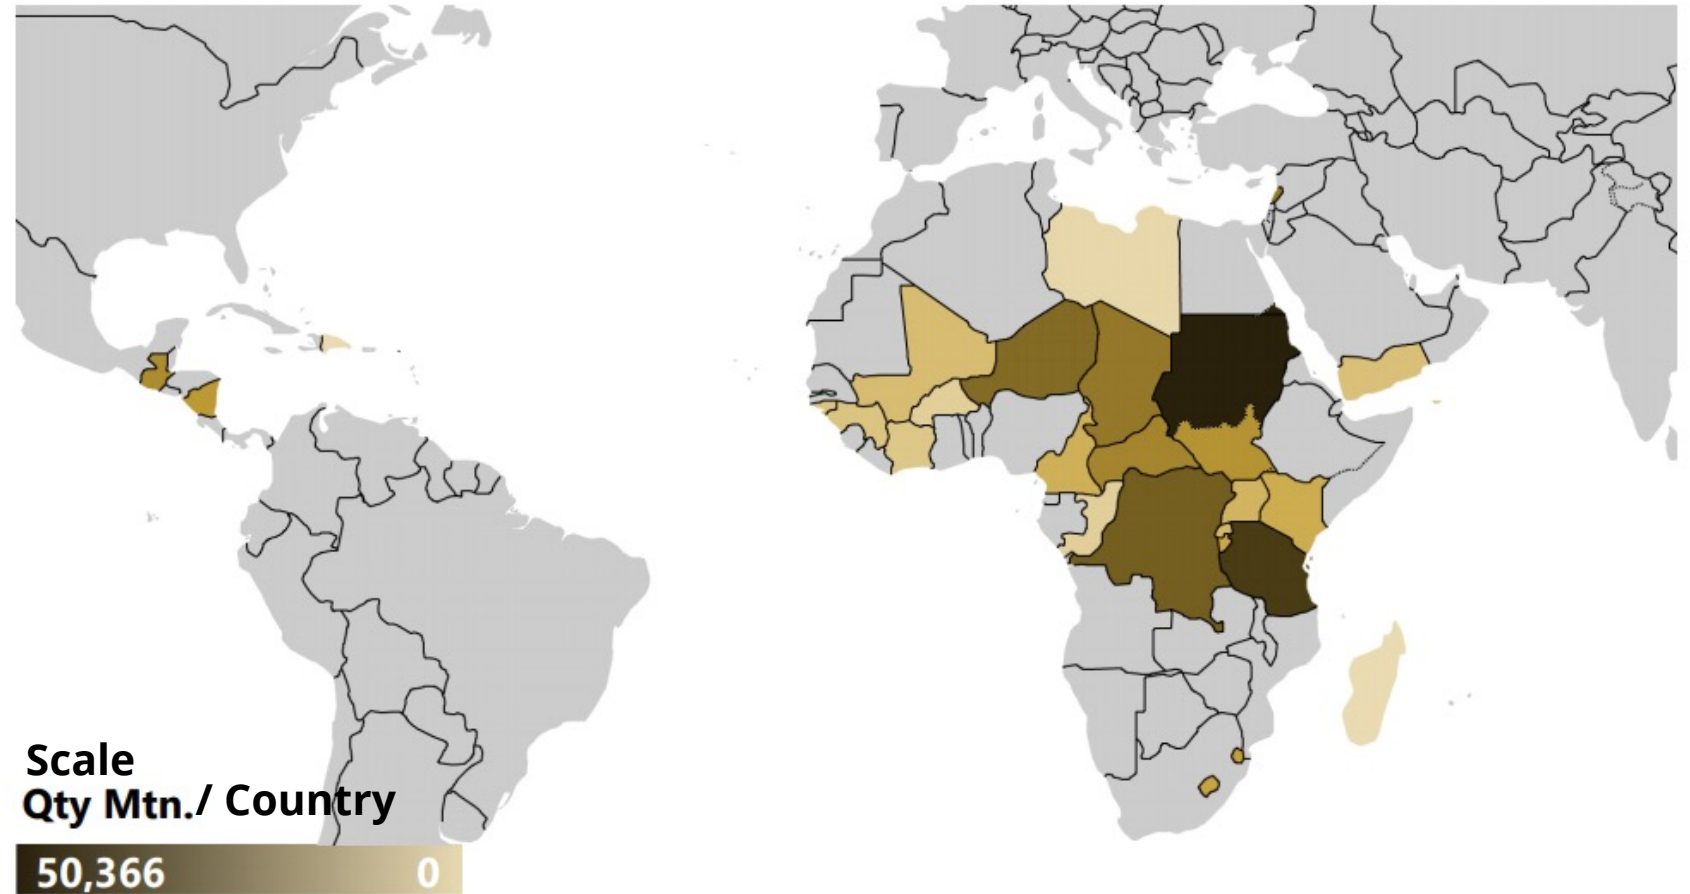

Local Production for Local Consumption // Building National Supply Chains

Accelerating Progress T

In 2020, WFP purchased 3.3 million MT of food at US$ 1.7 bn,

56% of which were local and regional purchases,

About $950m injected into local economies.

Over USD 49 million procured from Smallholder Farmers in 27 countries in 2020 (three percent of the total value of food procured); largest purchases took place in Sudan

FOOD PROCUREMENT

ENSURES THAT BENEFICIARIES RECEIVE THE RIGHT FOOD, BOUGHT AT THE RIGHT PLACE AND AT THE RIGHT TIME

Food Procurement is a core function across all WFP operations, enabling the organization to provide life-saving food assistance to nearly 100 million people worldwide fairly, transparently and cost-effectively.

FOOD SAFETY AND QUALITY ASSURANCE

ENSURING THAT BENEFICIARIES HAVE ACCESS TO SAFE, HIGH-QUALITY AND NUTRITIOUS FOOD

The Food Safety and Quality Assurance Unit is responsible for establishing and overseeing systems that guarantee the safety and quality of food across WFP's supply chain – from production to distribution to beneficiaries.

LOGISTICS

ENABLES DELIVERY OF ASSISTANCE IN THE FIELD, WHEREVER, WHENEVER, WHATEVER THE CHALLENGES

Most of WFP's work takes place in the field, often in extremely challenging operational environments resulting from sudden onset or protracted emergencies. The Logistics Service supports core logistics functions of WFP operations worldwide, enabling teams in the field to deliver life-saving assistance quickly, efficiently and cost-effectively.

SUPPLY CHAIN CASH-BASED TRANSFERS AND MARKETS

USING SUPPLY CHAIN EXPERTISE TO STRENGTHEN LOCAL MARKETS

The Supply Chain Cash-Based Transfers (CBT) and Markets Unit works to improve the functioning of markets that WFP operates in, removing inefficiencies to improve access to quality products, fair prices and good service.
